Integrated transportation

Cities will prioritize public transportation, walking, and cycling as sustainable modes of transportation. Future transportation systems may include autonomous vehicles, high-speed rail networks, and urban air mobility solutions to improve mobility and reduce congestion.

Image: AI-generated by Canva